

Financial Literacy

Financial Literacy is understanding the topic of money and represents financial wellness. However, it takes more than financial literacy to make a meaningful difference in people's lives. It takes a focus on behaviors, system sentiment, and making regular adjustments based on outcomes.

Financial literacy helps improve a person's confidence, sentiment, and may help them make better decisions. However, financial literacy alone does not guarantee financial security. That is the way the Community Transformers Foundation focus is on all aspects of a person's financial: literacy, sentiment, behaviors, systems, and planning.
